Login to DU CourseMedia™. To get to your class’s media, go to http://coursemedia.du.edu and enter your DU ID# (87#) and DU passcode and click Login. These entries are the same as the ones you use to access your DU email.

Access the class’s media. Your instructor has created one or more galleries that contain all of the media for your class. Galleries can contain images, video, and audio recordings. When you login, you will arrive on your homepage and see your course’s title and the first media item in each gallery. To open the gallery and see all of the media contained within it, click on the gallery’s thumbnail or title. After entering the gallery, the items contained within it show up as thumbnails. To get a larger view of an item, click on its thumbnail.

Viewing items with the Media Player. When you click an item’s thumbnail, it opens the Media Player which allows you to look at a larger version of the image, or play the audio or video. In addition to viewing the media in this Media Player, you can view an item in full-screen – without the browser window surrounding it. To view an item in full-screen, click on the thumbnail to open the Media Player and then click the full-screen button (below and to the right of the item).

Using the Media Player information tab. When you open the Media Player, the item appears on the left, and tabs are on the right. The information tab contains information about the item such as title, date, and description, as well as your instructor’s notes (if available).

Using the Media Player icons. The icons below the information tab allow interaction with the item. If any of the icons are highlighted, it indicates that your instructor has attached something to the item. Your instructor may have written notes about the item, narrated the item, included a discussion question, or added links to websites. Click the highlighted icon to access your instructor’s attachment.
